

New Yorkers For A Day of Two

Man From Paris Intimates We May Lose Our Sugar Market.

By Roger Batchelder.

The United States has a bigger sweet tooth than any other country in the world, according to A. S. Jaspard of Paris, who is at the Pennsylvania Exposition.

"Your people lead the world in per capita consumption of sugar," he declared, "and it follows that this country is the best sugar market at this time. Before the war it was one of the most important, because of the high standard of American refinement. We now buy all our sugar from America, but in a few years, unless your prices and the cost of transportation decline, France will supply herself again, or buy from Germany or Russia."

"In 1914, France produced enough best sugar for her own needs; the crop approximated 750,000 tons. The last year's crop was only 500,000 tons. Delay in getting reparation money for the destroyed factories has been a decided drawback, and until factories are built, of equal power with those which were ruined, France will not be able to get back to normal. Much progress is being made, nevertheless, and several new refineries will open this fall."

OUR HORSESHOE DEPARTMENT

Horseshoes, not the "Good Luck" floral variety, but the original iron footwear, will be thrown all around the lot at the Des Moines, Ia., State Fair in August, Samuel J. Watson of St. Petersburg, Fla., now at the Commodore, tells us.

"Horseshoe pitchers," he relates, "follow the tournament with the same glee that baseball fans go from one town to another during a World's Series. The American Horse Shoe Pitchers' Association recently announced that the American championship would be decided in Iowa this year, and the crack hurlers from every part of the country will forget all about business and enter the competition. There will even be a ladies' meet for the wives of the fans."

These men, according to Mr. Watson, will be among the chief contenders for the title: Freddy Hay, Minnesota State Champion; E. R. Spencer, Oklahoma State Champion; Vern Erickson, South Dakota State Champion; Edward Werner, Indianapolis Champion; Jack Erwin, Missouri State Champion; H. Van Dyke, Iowa State Champion; Dennis Wilkinson, California State Champion, and Willie Witt of Akron.

"AS OTHERS SEE US."

"Your Natural History Museum is quite the finest of its kind in the world," in my opinion," reported Harry K. Eustace, African explorer, now at the Astor. "The beauty of some of its settings, particularly that of the bird and reptile exhibit, is exceptional. I had the pleasure of being escorted through the museum by a party of youngsters, potential big game hunters, who recognized me from pictures published in The Evening World, and offered their services as a guard of honor for the occasion.

"New York reminds one much of London, with the exception of the skyscrapers, which London doesn't have," he resumed. "I am much impressed by the friendliness of the States. One is not greeted with the implied, if not actually expressed, 'I'm as good as you are,' but rather with, 'You're as good as we are.' In many countries the former attitude toward the stranger is marked."

ENGLISH—THE UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE?

English will be the common medium of communication between educated people throughout the world before long, in the opinion of H. D. Carroll of Toronto at the Biltmore recently.

"To bring about this situation, the Ontario Educational Association is active in considering simplification of spelling, which is becoming a greater necessity since the intercourse between English-speaking and other nations has become more marked. In the English language there are only five vowels, yet fifteen vowel sounds. By various combinations of letters there are 150 ways of representing the fifteen sounds—ten times too many."

FARTHEST FROM HOME.

The "New Yorker For a Day of Two," who is farthest from home today is H. Leighton. His home town, Hong Kong, China, is about 10,000 miles from Broadway.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advt.
